Top Antique Dealers Showcase Hottest Trends in Watches and Diamonds at the 18th Annual Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show
-The Largest Antique, Trade-Only Event in the U.S. Returns to the Paris Hotel-

LAS VEGAS, NV (April 24, 2013) – What happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas! Right? Not when you are a global collector or exhibitor attending the 18th Annual Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show at The Paris Hotel Las Vegas, May 30th – June 2nd, 2013!

“I’ve covered over 100 trade shows in the antique coin industry and have been coming to Las Vegas for over 20 years now,” said Howard Horowitz, H H Gold, Inc., President. “This is my second year taking part in the Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show and I find the atmosphere to be a better fit for many of our rare commissioned pieces sought out by industry insiders who regularly attend the Vegas show.”

H H Gold, Inc. was established in 1985 in California to provide the jewelry trade with truly unique and high quality products. The company features what is probably the most eclectic mix of jewelry in the industry today. HH Gold, Inc. prides itself in providing excellent service to retailers who want jewelry that is distinctive, not the same old styles seen in the “cookie cutter” chain stores.

This unique “trade only” event houses rare and priceless collections from the largest selection of rare and unique antique jewelry, watches and gemstones from all over the world. The Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show runs concurrently with the JCK show, opening one day before.

Various trends will be represented throughout the show floor at this year’s event. Recent industry reports indicate increased interest in colored diamonds and vintage watches among the antique business. Industry leaders suggest that collectors incorporate an array of vintage watches from Oster to Cartier in their collections to maximize style choices.

“U.S. Antique Shows is thrilled to provide the ideal atmosphere for industry experts in antique, vintage and estate jewelry and watches to gather this spring in Las Vegas,” said Dan Darby, Group Show Director. “The 2013 season’s selections are among the rarest and most unique collections we’ve seen so far, and we are excited to have nearly 400 exhibitors fill the hall this year.”

In its 18th year, the Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show continues to showcase the most exquisite antiques to exhibitors and collectors dedicated to this booming segment of the jewelry industry. The Las Vegas Show is a must-attend event for serious jewelry buyers and collectors that are interested in one-of-a-kind pieces impossible to obtain anywhere else.

The show offers a wide range of jewelry merchandise spanning all eras of jewelry history. Show times are 11:00a.m. – 7:00p.m. Thursday, May 30th – Saturday, June 1 and 11:00a.m. – 4:00p.m. Sunday, June 2nd. Admission is only $20.00 to attend all four days.

For more information about the show, or to purchase tickets, please call (239) 732 – 6642 or visit www.VegasAntiqueJewelry.com.

Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch hosts a forum on New Issues with Old European cut Diamonds, Presented by The Rapaport Group

-Pricing Concerns to be addressed by jewelry industry leaders at the Paris Hotel Las Vegas-

LAS VEGAS, NV (May 1, 2013) – U.S. Antique Shows, the world's leading producer of indoor antique shows which focus on antiques, including antique, vintage and estate jewelry and watches, announces that it will host a breakfast forum on "New Issues with Old European Cut Diamonds" at the 18th Annual Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show, Thursday, May 30 from 8:30 a.m. - 10:00 a.m. The forum is presented by Rapaport and will be held in the Bordeaux room at The Paris Las Vegas Hotel and Casino, across from The Paris Ballroom, where the Las Vegas show is held.

A group of select jewelry and watch industry leaders from laboratories, price guides, diamond cutters, retailers, wholesalers, technology, appraisal associations, trading networks, trade publications and noted experts are invited to participate in the discussion. The topics for discussion will include how the jewelry industry presently attempts to identify an old European cut diamond and the differences in pricing between those that are true representations of their respective eras (Victorian, Edwardian and Art Deco) versus reproductions, "Transitional" cuts and those that have been damaged or repaired.

The event is by invitation only and is sponsored by The Rapaport Group. The Rapaport Group is an international network of companies providing added value services that support the development of fair, transparent, efficient, and competitive diamond and jewelry markets. Established in 1976, the company has over 14,500 clients in 115 countries. "The second hand market is playing an ever growing role in today's diamond and jewelry market and we are seeing noticeable growth in demand and appreciation for vintage jewelry and Old European Cut diamonds," explains Ezi Rapaport, director of Global Trading. "As the leading reseller of diamonds, Rapaport is excited to work together with the Las Vegas Antique Jewelry & Watch Show and support an informative industry forum relating to Old European Cut diamonds and current topics and trends."

Douglas M. Liebman Estate Jeweler and Michael Goldstein LTD are also supporting sponsors. Space is limited, however, individuals who wish to attend the symposium may request an invitation by visiting the show's website, www.VegasAntiqueJewelry.com.
